WILMINGTON SCIENTIST CITED

Dr. Edmund Passmore of Marcus Rd. flew to New York last Monday to receive the 1967 Ross, Coffin Prudy Award, which is presented annually by the American Ceramic Society for an outstanding contribution to ceramic literature.

The award winning article entitled 'Strength-Grain Size-Porosity Relations in Alumina' written by Dr. Passmore and co-authored by Dr. Thomas Vaslios, manager of the Materials Science Department of AVCO and Richard M. Spriggs formerly group leader of the Metals and Ceramics Research Section, was published in the A.C.S. Journal of January 1965. The paper assessed the influence of various micro structure characteristics on the strength properties of aluminum oxide.

Nine years a resident of Wilmington, Dr. Passmore was until recently an AVCO Staff Scientist. He is now employed in Danvers by the Sylvania Electric Products Lighting Division.

Letter

Dear Sir:

In defense of the residents of Alderwood Estates and regarding your editorial of April 27, 1967, I would like to bring some 'facts' into the picture. First of all, we are not living in the middle ages of twenty thousand years ago but in the age of progress where we can put a man on the moon. Back in the time you referred to, we did not have such boards as the Board of Health, building inspectors, Engineers of all types, geologists, etc., all with large salaries. We also have rules and regulations to follow as a progressive town. These boards were voted in at Town Meetings through the years as Wilmington rose from a summer colony to the progressive town that it is today. Each board has a specific job to do and if they are qualified, and I assume they are, they should be able to give the people of this town the answers to the questions in this situation since they have stated it is a 'mess'. This is a bad situation for the health and welfare of this area.

Let me remind you that this development is not made up of mud huts or summer camps, but new homes with prices ranging from $20,000 to $30,000 on which are assessed extremely high taxes. What other recourse do these people have when they are being pushed around by politically motivated individuals.

It is high time the people of this town stand up and be counted. I for one will work to have this matter rectified for the people of this area. As it is said many, there are laws to protect us, but you have to find them - there is one law for me and a different one for you. This should not be and I hope I can find that law which is right for everyone.

Very truly yours,
Helen R. Casey

P.S. At no time did the Wilmington Fire Department ever pump out a home on Redwood Terrace.

It seems that Mrs. Casey has misunderstood the purpose of the editorial to which she refers. It pointed out the geological facts of Wilmington, not too well understood by many, and the fact that one cannot drain a dish, or a cellar, without allowing some way for the water to get out.

After the high school baseball team bombarded Lawrence Vocational 15-1 last Monday, things have gone downhill for the Wildcats. Wednesday, Methuen man-handled Don White and silenced the Wildcat's bats in winning 10-1. On Friday, it took North Andover nine innings to beat Wilmington 2-1. Billy Steber turned in a tremendous performance on the hill but absorbed the defeat in overtime. The hitting slump continued on Monday, as Tewksbury outscored the locals 5-2 beating Mike O'Rourke.

Track action wasn't any brighter as the WHS contingent could manage only one first place finish in a 93-22 loss to super-powerful Chelmsford. Dick Doucette's win in the 120 yard hurdles was about all we can brag about.

UNRESERVED

At a banquet in honor of Rev. John McNeil, recently transferred from St. Dorothy's parish to St. James of Haverhill, the good Father described an interesting assignment he has drawn. It will be his task to reestablish an athletic program at St. James High School. The popular young curate is one of the keenest sports minds ever collared by Cardinal Cushing and it is certain that his efforts will produce representative teams.

What do you do with a man who doesn't believe in killing with guns but is willing to risk it with his fists, even when the subject under assault happens to be black? He claims to devote 90% of his time to his vocation, the ministry, and consequently, should be exempt from military duty. Well, the military needs chaplains just as badly as it does fighting men. Put Clay in the Army as a chaplain and save the taxpayers millions of dollars in prosecution fees.

Latest Patriots' signee, 'Big Dog' Thornhill of Michigan State, will find that his only chance will be at safety. His lack of height (5' 10") eliminates him as a linebacker, but his speed and aggressiveness cannot be overlooked. He is a 9.9 man in the hundred and led State in tackles, outdoing Buba Smith et al.

It's cutdown time for Pony and Little Leagues. It's always a coach's toughest assignment to tell a boy he isn't good enough to play.

$450,000 for Bill Bradley; $250,000 for Jimmy Walker; $300,000 for Steve Spurrier and only $45,000 for proven all pro Don Perkins. Which do you believe?

Town softball action commences on the cow pasture at the foot of the town's rope tow next week.

Joe Foy claims to be a perennial slow starter. Just when is the start of the season for one who plays baseball all year round with winter ball and all? The Celtics lost nothing in the expansion draft. Toby Kimball is too short to star at center and cannot shoot well enough to be a cornerman. Jim Barnett is quick and aggressive, but is not a pro shooter. Ronnie Watts is a good Cheerleader.

Kentucky Derby this Saturday. With the weather this country has been having it will probably be snowed out.

Wasn't that 420 yard hole-in-one something?

It's definite, Boosters President, Phil 'Golden Boy' Nelson announced that the electric scoreboard will be ready for next years football season.

Chevrolet's room, ride and price. When Automotive News made its annual roominess study, Chevrolet got the most points. It's roomier inside, they reported, than any other American car. The ride is Full Coil suspension smooth. And Chevrolet hardtops and convertibles are still the lowest priced full-size cars of this kind you can buy. Chevelle's quick size. It's quick to climb, quick to turn. Other mid-size cars might be like Chevelle, true. But they're not as low priced. And they're not made by Chevrolet with Body by Fisher, GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, inner fenders and Full Coil suspension. Camaro's road-hugging stance. At its price, Camaro is the only sportster to give you wide-stance design. It rides steadier, clings to curves better, hugs the road closer. It's the roomiest car you can buy. Plus, you get a bigger standard engine.

Selectmen's Meeting

The Board of Selectmen, Monday night decided against Sunday licenses for Wilmington grocery stores. The decision followed the reading of a letter written by Town Counsel Alan I Altman to the TM in which it was said that the only stores that could be open were those employing two persons or less, including the owner.

The decision was to return all Sunday licenses, and to have Mr. Altman draft a letter to be sent to the store owners.

Taxi permits for Errand Boy Taxi, with two additional cabs were granted. There was discussion of liability limits, and the two members of the board who are in the insurance business said that $5,000/$10,000 were maximum since taxis were assigned risks. This is true except for those transporting school children, where the School Department designates the coverage.

Building Inspector Roy McClanahan was asked to investigate Lot 58 at Kenwood Avenue.

Selectman Niles brought up the fact that the Town of Brookline Selectmen were supporting proposed legislation to have all electric and telephone wires put underground, and that the Wilmington Selectmen should take the same stand. To this the board agreed. Mr. Micelli will draft a letter to Rep. Cain and Sen. MacKenzie so indicating.

Rep. Cain sent news that the DPW plans for the Nichols Street bridge are that it will be relocated by 60 feet. A new bridge is planned and the old road will be cut off by barriers, and thus the ownership of the old bridge by the B&M will not be affected.

Mr. Melzar made it clear that the State DPW would spend no money for the new bridge unless there was title to the bridge in the Town, and that it was a part of the highway system. He will talk further with the DPW on this.

Cain said that funds were available from the State and County for the bridge, and Mr. Niles questioned as to whether or not the railroad was requiring 18 or 20 feet above the track. Mr. Micelli asked Mr. Melzar to thank Mr. Cain.

Niles asked if the Planning Board could be asked to approve subdivision plans with open drainage. There is one in his neighborhood with open drainage, he said, and the town should take care of natural waterways. There was no menace to children, i.e. danger of drowning, but there were some extremely sharp sides, and he thought that the Planning Board should look into this and develop something safer.

The Planning Board, it is said, is taking action at Hanson Road, and on Shawsheen Avenue. Niles moved that the Town Manager ask the Planning Board to develop safer drainage.

Micelli reported that he had attended a meeting of the Ipswich Watershed Commission. The Commission was surveying, ready to take property in Lynnfield for a reservoir, for more than a billion gallons water storage. It would be located near the Sagamore Golf Course, and will serve Lynnfield, North Reading, Lynn and Peabody by diverting some water from the river.

There is now a bill in the Legislature, he said (House 4588) for the construction of a reservoir for Ipswich and Gloucester. Niles wanted to know if this would affect Wilmington's water supply, and Melzar said No, it would help if anything by holding water in the ground.

Micelli reported that he had asked where the money would come from for the construction of the reservoirs, and that an engineer of the Lynnfield project had said he would get the information.

Several of the selectmen spoke of telephone calls about a person said to live on Kiernan Avenue who is bringing automobiles to his home, as many as 10 or 12 at a time.

Niles pointed out that although the cars were registered, it was not to the person who was operating them and Boylen wanted to know if there was not a conflict in zoning, which would be up to the Building Inspector. Micelli ended the discussion by saying that Chief Lynch was going to take care of it.

Boylen asked if it would not be possible to use the color red, in approaches to the new schools. Melzar said he had already talked about this with the PBC, and Niles agreed with Boylen that a letter should be sent to the PBC.

Boylen then asked about the protection to individual town officials, named in law suits. Niles told him that when this happened in some towns the town assumed the financial and legal responsibilities. Boylen said they should know how they stood, in Wilmington, and Micelli agreed to investigate.

Black spoke of the signs all over town, put up by real estate people. He spoke of a down town broker, and also of the building near the square recently gutted by fire. The owner will be contacted. He went on to discuss summer cottages being open, and that one owner had a well that was open. Melzar told him that one owner with a well like that had had it covered by the town, and when he opened it up again the town had had the Supt. of Streets fill it in. He also said that new residents of the Butters Row, Chestnut Street area were asking that the Wilmington Skating Club be drained or filled. It is, he said, private property that was there when they moved into town.

Mr. Martin of Silver Lake Ave. appeared to discuss the valuation of town land next to him. It was agreed to have the Assessor look it over.

Town Engineer Harding presented maps of the Kenwood area, with suggested drains for the area. He suggested allowing householders to pump into the street drains. This can only be done with due legal steps, the Selectmen were told. Harding was complimented on an excellent job of research.

Harding told the Selectmen that the County has 22 checks for residents of Burlington Avenue who had not returned releases, or claimed checks. If not claimed soon they will have to be turned over to the courts. He asked that the people contact him, at the Highway Dept. garage.

He had preliminary plans for the land taking on Burlington Avenue as a part of widening the street. It was decided after study that there wouldn't be much more hot top than now, but more sidewalk area.

Before adjourning the meeting Mrs. Casey of Redwood Ave was allowed to speak. She said that at no time had the Wilmington Fire Department pumped out any cinders on Redwood Avenue.

Social Action Committee Formed

A Social Action Committee, for Wilmington, was formed last Friday in a meeting in the Wesley House of the Methodist Church, sponsored by the Wilmington Council of Churches. CHARLES COLONY TO BE CHARLES RESTAURANT

The former Charles Colony Restaurant, on Route 28 in North Reading, today announced its re-openings of its facilities, and the changing of its name to the Charles Restaurant.

The popular North shore eating establishment, gutted by a severe fire last year, will re-open under new management, and according to a spokesman, the building has been completely renovated, with many changes made. They feel certain that it will delight all those who have enjoyed the fine food and atmosphere of the Charles.

The restaurant will cater primarily to the family and 'with menu prices' according to the management, and will be 'as attractive as you will find anywhere on the North Shore'.

The facilities will be open for business this weekend in preparation for Mother's Day, and the formal opening will be held sometime later this month.

ATTENTION RESIDENTS of WILMINGTON

Summer being just around the corner, Now is the Time to inspect Your Garbage Bucket. Make sure that the bottom does not leak, and that the handle is on securely.

It is a suggested practice to scrape out the inside of the bucket and then wash with the garden hose each time after it is emptied. Don't leave water in the bucket Underground containers are the best suitable ones for garbage. Ask the collector for the best location in your yard, before installing. Please notify the collector before moving a bucket from one location to another.

No collector will enter a year if, in his opinion, there is a dog which might attack him. Remember, most dogs may not bite, but they may attack a stranger coming in the yard.

Following is the set of rules as set forth by the Board of Health:-

If your garbage is not being collected, check these regulations before registering a complaint.

A. All garbage shall be kept in suitable metal water tight containers not exceeding fifteen gallons capacity and properly covered with a tight cover.

B. NO PLASTIC BAGS, MILK CONTAINERS, paper, metal, glass, tin cans, crockery, razor blades, poisonous substances, materials injurious to livestock, or substance other than house garbage shall be placed in such containers.

C. Garbage containers must be so located that they are readily accessible AT ALL TIMES to the collector authorized by the Board of Health, e.g. a collector will not go looking in barns, etc. for the garbage bucket.

For immediate attention to a garbage complaint, please call Mastromarino Bros. at 658-4657 between the hours of 2 to 4 pm.

You're not really as young as you feel . . . or as old! You're only as young as you make yourself feel. For a good many of us, then, that almost characteristic, tottering walk and those poor trembling hands are actually caused by something more than just growing older.

The question still goes unanswered . . . why do we age? It can be a matter of poor physical condition and lack of exercise, or prolonged wrong eating habits, wrong thinking and not simply an aging process.

The trouble is that not enough of us realize this . . . at the right time. When we do, it's usually too late to correct. The older we get, the harder it is to get back into condition. And, sadly, we really have no one to blame but ourselves . . . but it's never too late to be rectified to some extent, at least.

It's true that time flies, you see, but it doesn't necessarily take your health with it. Watch the birdie . . . for a picture of health.

Consult your physician regularly and then depend on your pharmacy to fill his prescription faithfully. You can depend on SILVER LAKE PHARMACY for Free Prescription Delivery . . . Plenty of Free Parking . . . Hours 9 AM to 10 PM Daily.

Joseph B McMahon is dead

Joseph B McMahon died suddenly last Thursday. He had, characteristically just finished his last bit of service to his fellow man, this time as a member of the committee which conducted the testimonial for Doctor Gerald A Fagan. He had a heart attack at 4 am and was dead before arrival at the hospital.

Joe McMahon lived a lifetime of service to his fellow man. His service to his fellow townspeople in Wilmington was quite probably unequalled.

He was seventy years old when death called, the son of the late Thomas and Isabell McMahon. His father was one of the butchers of Wilmington, in the last part of the nineteenth century, and had done well. He had bought the Bond House, from the estate of the late Deacon Skilton, and it was in this house, at the head of Wilmington Common, in which Joe was born on Feb. 14, 1897.

Joe was in the first class to graduate from the then new Wilmington High School, now the Swain School. When the nation became embroiled in World War I he was among the first to volunteer, becoming a part of the US Navy. His war time service was at Newport, Rhode Island.

Even before he graduated from High School he was exhibiting the friendly characteristics which led him to become the all-round citizen of his town. He was a part of all the activities that were going on, and he had time to spare for work, too.

A few houses down the street dwelt Edward M. Nichols, an undertaker, and Joe became an assistant to Mr. Nichols. He learned there one of the several occupations which were to keep him busy throughout his lifetime.

After he had completed his Navy service he went to work clerking for the Boston & Maine Railroad.

He helped to form the Wilmington Post of the American Legion, and was its first Finance Officer. Before he had finished that job, 37 years later, he had completed the longest service as a Legion Finance Officer in the United States.

In anything that was going on, Joe, with a light joke, participated. He helped to form the Catholic Club of Wilmington, now almost forgotten, but in its day one of Wilmington's liveliest organizations. He was there when the Salvation Army formed its Wilmington unit, and served as treasurer for years. He was a charter member of the Rotary Club of Wilmington. He helped to start the March of Dimes. He was a charter member of the Knights of Columbus in Wilmington. Anyone who asked Joe for help always received an answer of 'of course'.

Meanwhile he had started the McMahon Funeral Home, on Middlesex Avenue. This was 41 years ago, in 1926.

About then the late Caleb Harriman began to talk of having St Thomas Church was crowded for the Solemn High Mass, Monday morning. The flags of Wilmington were at half mast.

The Mass was by Father Edmund Croke, assisted by Father Joseph Leahy of St. Dorothy's and Father Francis Mackin. Seated at the Altar were Monsignor George Brennan, former pastor of St. Thomas, Father James P O'Brien of St. Margaret's in Dorchester, and Father Charles White, of Wilmington now of St. Ann's in Boston.

Burial was in the family lot, in Wildwood Cemetery.

Surviving, beside his wife and son, are three grandchildren, two boys and a girl, and four sisters, Mrs Alice Lee, Miss Bessie McMahon, Mrs Rose Cavanaugh, and Mrs Eleanor Day, all of Wilmington

HERBERT ANDERSON WAS ELEVEN YEAR RESIDENT

Herbert N Anderson, husband of Helen (Johnson) Anderson of 14 Lloyd Road died at his home on Thursday evening, April 27th.

58 years old at the time of his death, he was a native of Halifax Nova Scotia, and had lived in Connecticut before taking up residence in Wilmington 11 years ago. Prior to his death he was a trailer driver. He was a US Army veteran of World War II.

Funeral services for Mr Anderson were held in Danbury, Conn. and burial took place in Elmwood Cemetery, Bethel, Connecticut.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of the W S Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home.

SPRAYS*Girl Scouts visit BostonGirls Scouts of Troop 361 enjoyed an educational, all day trip to Boston during last week's school vacation. The purpose was to help them earn a badge, as well as to learn to take trips on public transportation.Planning started weeks in advance. They took the train from Wilmington to North Station, then walked up Beacon Hill to historic Louisburg Square, and then on to the State House, for an interesting tour of historic value and a picture with Senator Ronald MacKenzie.The girls had a delightful picnic lunch on the Common, in view of the State House, and after lunch bags had been put in a nearby trash can, went for a subway ride to Prudential Center.Back in the sunlight again, they toured the Christian Science Publishing Society, and saw the Christain Science Monitor being printed.This was the highlight of the trip.
They learned of the phases that an international daily newspaper goes through to give local, national and international news, and saw the hugh presses in motion, watched the papers being folded and addressed mechanically, and placed in bags to be sent to trains and airports, as well as to local newsdealers for delivery. They also enjoyed the unique colored glass Mapparium - a scale model of the globe, large enough to walk through on a clear glass bridge, all within the buildings of the Publishing Society.The girls then decided that a trip to the sky-walk of the Prudential Tower was a must, even though it was unscheduled. A fast trip by the express elevator brought them to the fifty-second floor, and a Birds-eye view of Boston. Afterwards a quick descent brought them them to the ground, and they went for a tour of the Public Garden.The girls were becoming professional in using public transportation by the time they again entered the subway to return to North Station.

They left on the 4:05 train bound for Wilmington, tired but happy, and arrived home on schedule,
a little wiser, and with a purpose fulfilled.ATTENTION YOUNG WOMEN
